

Literature. Language. Love of Learning.

Early learning happens as a child makes a connection between what is new and what is familiar. At Discovery Point, our proprietary curriculum has the heart of story time and the mind of research based standards. Using books, music, and words, we open the doors to math, science, and problem solving. Each child centered lesson is flexible enough to be adapted for each individual learner and designed to make critical neurological connections in these early learning years.

- Thematic units built on discovery
- Flexible lessons based on learning styles
- Nurturing self-esteem and social skills
- Drama, visual arts, and cooking activities
- Math, science, and technology
- Classical music, dance, and yoga